In connection with an article in the Face several days ago concerning barvest hands. It W. Bhaine, of Pratt. says:

The same plan of receiving and distributing the harvest hands will be adopted as was practiced last year. A free labor bureau will be established either at Top-ka or Kaneas City, where cither at Topska or Kanens City, wher the harvest hands will be asked to repor opened at any one point and a scarcity at other points in the wheat belt. All that will ! recountry is for the farmers to ha some party who will take an interest i the work at their county seat or neartown, to arrange with the bureau to sup oly harvest hands when called upon t The farmers should canvas this mitter among themselves and make a timate of the probable number of extr on required at the earliest possible dat norder that the labor bureau may hav in opportunity to advertise for the help So far as this county is concerned, the quities of residents from each school dis-triot, abows that at least one thousan exten men will be needed, and likely the same condition of affairs exists through out the entire wheat belt of Kansas, where something like $5,000 extra men cere used has year, which was not nough. For this reason it was thought best to begin a month earlier than we did last year that there may be no delay in getting the extra men when needed.

I would suggest to the farmers of this Flax seed-No. 1 51.53. unty that they hald a meeting at the Hatrict school houses some evening next resid-if convenient by Thursday, the Sth-and complete their estimates, and have their reports reach me not later than May 1, as the Western Passenger Association will not grant a low railroad rate to harvest hands without they have mittive assurance that the belp is need-These estimates must be presented: about May I, in order to get the rate bely is needed the applications will be until the men will be needed there is no time to lose in pushing this movement."

An American gentleman who spent the summer in Europe recently, asserted that Espans Tabules must have an enormous mis. "Why." he said, "I ran across them everywhere ever there." "Dut," said his interiorator," "they are not advertised there at all, and I doubt if they are on sale. You must be talking through your hat when you say that you find them all over Europe." Thus warned, his companion became more circumspact, and this is what he said : "Well, in Vienna I met a gentleman who, speaking of the ills of traveling, especially of heavy enting and sometimes had cooking, said: "but I have a cure for that," and he produced a vial of Ripana Tabules from his vest pocket, "just like that," said the man, producing one himself out of his own Then in Constantinopie I met another American and had with him a somewhat similar experience. He had a vial of the Tabules in his pocket too. And there was a third case at some point, I don't remember just where now, but somewhere in northern Europe," "These men must have carried them ever with them," said his friend, " for I am certain the goods are not on sale over there." "Well, I don't know how they got them," said the first speaker, "but they had them, and so did I, for that matter, and as I carried mine over with me, very likely they did theirs too."
